Priesthood Meeting Is Held

Mrs. May Tollestrup and Mrs. Blanche Seoville were released as members of the Stake Y. L. M. I. A. Board, and Miss Fern Wilde was released from the Stake Sunday School Board.

Miss Wyona Hawkins was named Secretary of the Stake Y. L. M. I. A., and Mrs. Julia Asplund, Miss May Snow, Mrs. M. W. Boyson, and Mrs. Elma Romeril were named as members of the Board.

Mrs. V. A. Kenney and Miss Clara Dahl were appointed members of the Stake Sunday School Board.

Reed Kirkham of the Raymond First Ward, and Dean Larson of the Raymond Second Ward were recommended and accepted for ordination as Elders.

The awards for Mutual Contest Work were then made to the various wards as follows:—

Solen Low presented Gold Medals emblematic of Division Championship to Miss Bessie Bourge for the General Speech, and John Wolsey for the "M" Men speech, both of Magrath 1st Ward. Gen. Miller accepted the presentation. He also presented Jack Combs of the Raymond First Ward with a Silver Medal, emblematic of second place in Division Championship for the Vanguard Retold Story.

Mrs. L. D. King presented eleven medals to the Raymond Second Ward Dramatic Caste for winning the first place in the Contest Drama for the Division. A gold pin for each member.

Miss Velma Meldrum, Pres. of the Stake Y. L. M. I. A., explained the standing of the Dancers in the Contest Dance and stated that as their plans were necessary while taking part in the Dance at Saltair, they had already received them, being Gold ones for the Division Championship.

Louis Brandley then presented the Athletic Cup to the Raymond Second Ward for a permanent possession for their winnings in the Track and Field Meets, having been won three years in succession by this ward. He stated that the second Ward made a practice of having everyone, with any promise of ability take part in these meets, and that where other wards had six or eight athletes, Raymond Second has had between fifty and sixty, and thus have won out on points. He encouraged the other wards to try this method.

Wm. Anderson accepted the first three trophies on behalf of the Raymond Second Ward Mutual.

Louis Brandley announced the 8 o'clock singing commencing Wednesday and the Father's and Sons Outing to commence Monday next week. He urged the parents to try and let their boys go on this outing, and pleaded with the Fathers to arrange their affairs to attend the Fathers and Sons Meets and enjoy their association there.

Frs. O. H. Snow, who was in charge, Pres. Allen being confined to the house due to illness, stated that the Taylor Stake was third in the church in the number of people on the Tithing Records, and complimented them this, and urged them to be faithful in the payment of Tithes and Offerings, because now, more than at any time did the Church stand in need of this help.

Quarterly Conference was announced for Saturday and Sunday, August 20th and 21st and stated that it was expected that Elder Melvin J. Ball and others would be present from Salt Lake City. It will be a Mutual convention, and also special meeting for the Relief Society organization.

W. H. Gutz is holidaying at present from the Canadian Bank of Commerce for this, urged them to be faithful

Mrs. G. E. Patterson Is Laid To Rest

A large crowd of sympathetic friends met at the Stake House on Tuesday afternoon to pay their respects to the memory of Mrs. G. E. Patterson, aged 33 years, who passed away at the Galt Hospital on Friday morning last.

The First Ward Bishopric took charge and Bishop Heber F. Allen conducted the services. W. C. Stone was in charge of the singing, and people from both Raymond wards and from Stirling were in the choir seats.

Christensen Bros. of Lethbridge had charge of the services and the Fall Beavers were Dichta Bennett, Willis Christensen, Fred Brown, Wesley McMillan, Ward Nelson and Glen Moses. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers carried by the young ladies of the Ward who preceded the lovely white casket into and out of the building.

The opening song was "Abide With Me," and Paul Redd of the First Ward Bishopric offered the opening prayer, followed by "Not Now but in the Coming Years."

Bishop Fawns of Stirling was the first speaker, who spoke of his long acquaintance with the deceased, and stated that she had done her work well in giving birth to a large family. He mentioned the influence of the spirits of the departed on the lives of the ones left, here and was of the opinion that the children would often feel the influence of their mother over them, and that it was not impossible but that while the blow seemed hard to the husband and family, that deceased may be able to do more to help in the spirit world, than she could have done had she remained in the flesh. Spoke of the reality of the resurrection and of association on beyond the grave, and urged all to prepare themselves for death and for the life beyond.

Miss Louise Brandley of Stirling sang, "Face to Face."

Clarence E. Alfred of the First Ward Bishopric was the next speaker. He stated that although there were nearly 700 people in the Raymond First Ward, there had not been a funeral in the ward for fifteen months until Bro. Fawns was buried on Friday last. He was well acquainted with deceased and said she had a strong desire to be with the Church and do her part, and had done so as long as health and her family responsibilities would permit. Speaking of death, he said if our departed dead were not in the spirit world to meet us when we arrived there it would be a great disappointment, and that without them it would not be heaven regardless of the other beauties that may abound there. Deceased was a cheerful disposition, always hopeful and full of faith for the future, and made friends wherever she went.

Wm. Clark of Stirling sang, "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose."

Bishop James H. Walker of the Raymond Second Ward was the next speaker. While he sympathized with all who mourned on such occasions, it often turned out that our sorest griefs are really our greatest blessings, and he was certain that the influence and power of every parent called from this world, was used for the assistance of the children left here in doing their right thing. He spoke of the humility of Christ, and His dependence on the Father, and yet in His hour of trial He cried out in anguish, and His tribulation resulted in His greatest victory. In his opinion this depression with all its attendant ills, would turn out to be a great blessing for us, and it was proving to all of us, as such occasions as this did, that the really desirable things in life cannot be purchased with money, and that a good life and a good example is above price and its value cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents. The thought that God is our Father, and that we are on the road to perfection was one of the greatest comforts in anyone's life, and we should live in harmony with this knowledge from day to day. Bishop Allen in a few closing re-

Board of Trade Meets

The regular Board of Trade Meeting was held in the Town Hall on Monday night but due to the busy season only a small membership was present.

The main business of the meeting was the presentation and discussion of the Financial Statement of the Stampede and Race Meet held on Dominion Day, July 1st. The figures showed that after paying all expenses of the day there would be a very small surplus left for the Board of Trade Treasury. This was somewhat disappointing and at the same time gratifying, considering the conditions surrounding us at present, that the celebration should pay all its bills and leave a surplus, even though it was small.

A long discussion followed this, and Stampede activities in many details were discussed and many valuable suggestions noted for future years. It was also pointed out that while expenses in fixing up the grounds had been heavy, the fences, corrals and buildings at the grounds were in good condition, and should require very little if any repairing for next year.

A motion that the report be accepted, and that the gratitude of the Board be expressed to all who assisted in making the day a success was carried unanimously.

Mr. Wood reported that the road to the Factory from the lower corner of Broadway was completed, and was giving very good satisfaction. This was accomplished through a joint agreement of the town and the Sugar Co. officials. Then too, from the Factory fence to the buildings themselves and also down to the pulp silos, the road had also been graded and surfaced with cinders, in the hopes that it would hold up, and make the delivery of beets and the hauling of pulp less of a problem than it has been here before.

The straightening of the road to the cemetery was also discussed, but as the Chairman of the Road Committee was not present at the time with a report, it was left with this Committee, although the sentiment expressed were not in favor of the proposition in view of the heavy cost and the impassable condition of the road in the winter time, especially.

The meeting adjourned at 10 p.m. and decided not to hold it again until the first Monday of November, unless important business demanded it because of the approaching beet harvest season.

News Notes

Gordon Brewerton of Cardston was a Raymond visitor this week.

Miss Marie Giblen is visiting relatives and friends in Taber this week.

W. C. Stone returned Saturday from a short vacation and fishing trip which followed the First Ward Temple Excursion Wednesday of last week.

Russell Brown and wife of Salt Lake City, a brother of Mrs. R. G. Cooper, were in Raymond on Sunday and they and Mr. and Mrs. Cooper spent the day at Waterloo Lake Park. They also spent part of Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Cooper.

Markus thanked all for their presence, and on behalf of the family thanked all who had assisted in any way during the sickness and the death of the deceased.

The closing song was "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and the benediction was pronounced by T. F. Mendonhall.

A large cortege followed the hearse to the cemetery where the grave was dedicated by Bishop Allen.

Funeral Services For David F. Fawns

Funeral services over the remains of Patriarch David Fowler Fawns were held in the Stake House last Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Bishop Heber F. Allen of the Raymond First Ward conducting the services and the massed Choral under the baton of Ira McBride, furnishing the music.

The opening song was "Abide With Me," and the invocation was offered by Pres. A. E. Palmer of the Lethbridge Stake, and the second song was "I Know that My Redeemer Lives" with Ira McBride, singing the solo.

The first speaker was Thos. O. Klog, who during the early days of the Stake had travelled extensively with the deceased in preaching and teaching the people, both in and out of the Church. He cherished very dearly the memory of these days, and said that while deceased was a strict observer of the teachings he preached so well he was tolerant and patient with those who could not see as he did. Deceased had spoken of the old ploughing bees in Scotland in his younger days, when the person who could plow the straightest furrow was declared winner, and he said that all through the life of deceased in his words and actions he had left a straight furrow for all to look upon.

Mrs. C. H. Snow sang "Crossing the Bar," a favorite of the deceased and a song which many months ago he had asked her to sing at his funeral.

M. A. Combs, of Cardston, who had known deceased for 57 years, long before the family came to Canada, was the next speaker, and referring to his acquaintance with deceased stated there were few men in the Church who had done more in the way of encouraging people, especially the young, to obey the call of authority than had Bro. Fawns, and stated several instances in his own life, where his decisions were the result of counsel and advice of deceased and his good wife, particularly in the event of his mission, and also his getting located in business in Canada. Bro. Fawns was a man who observed doctrine, and one who truly practiced what he preached.

Wm. Clark of Stirling then sang "Going Home."

Pres. Z. W. Jacobs of the Alberta Stake Presidency spoke next, and brought greetings and expressions of sympathy from Pres. Wood, and John Smith the other members of the Presidency who were unable to be there. He wondered what the Stake would do without its Patriarch, and who the people would ask for to administer to them now that Bro. Fawns was gone. He hoped that whoever was chosen as Patriarch would be able to carry on as well and successfully as deceased, and would receive true credit of the Patriarch. The gospel was in actuality to David F. Fawns, and he accepted it wholeheartedly, and the world was a better place for his having lived here. In speaking of the life of deceased and his splendid example he stated that we all were indebted to our progenitors for the splendid name and heritage they had left us and we should live worthily so as to not bear their name through our actions. In conclusion he read "The Epitaph."

Mr. Louis Brandley and daughter sang a Duett, "There is Hope Beyond the Shadows."

Pres. O. H. Snow spoke next and expressed the regrets of Pres. H. S. Allen that his sickness prevented his attending the services. David Fawns was one of the first members of the Taylor Stake High Council, and was always faithful and devoted to the business of serving the Lord. He was truly one who hungered and thirsted after righteousness, and in the twenty-two years he had been associated with affairs of the Stake he had never seen, the time when deceased was not ready and willing to obey any call made of him by the authority of the Priesthood. If we desire to meet the deceased in the hereafter we had better prepare now, as he had prepared to meet our record on judgment day.

Bishop Allen in his remarks stated that he had appreciated the life of the deceased, who in his estimation was one of the great men of the Church, for besides his many years of service in the ministry at home, he had spent six years or more in the foreign mission field. He had lived a good long life, was ready for promotion, and he lived what he preached in such a way that no one who knew him could doubt his belief in the things he professed.

The closing song was "Shall We Meet Beyond the River," and Patriarch John F. Anderson a former Bishop of Raymond First Ward pronounced the benediction.

A large number of cars followed the remains to the cemetery where interment was made beside the first wife of deceased. Pall bearers were Jas. H. Walker, John F. Salmon, Pres. J. W. Evans, Thos. O. Hicken, F. B. Rolfsen and C. W. Brewerton. The floral offerings were beautiful and profuse, a great many home grown flowers gracing the pearl grey casket, the rostrum, and at the cemetery covering the graves of both deceased and his wife. Members of Mrs. Fawns Primary class acted as flower girls.

James E. Meeks, who was also Bishop of the Raymond First Ward, had acted as the grave and Christensen Bros. of Lethbridge had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Mrs. L. D. King Is Honored

Mrs. Elizabeth King was the guest of honor at a luncheon held at the home of Mrs. David Meldrum on Tuesday afternoon, given by the Stake Board Y. L. M. I. A.

During the luncheon toasts were given by May Tollestrup, Retta Walton and Matilda Boyson, to the retiring officers, after which a suitable presentation was made to each. Those present included besides the honor guests, Honnie Nalder, May Tollestrup, Blanche Seoville, Velma Meldrum, Retta Walton, Angelina Wilbeck, E. M. Romeril, Julia Asplund, Matilda Boyson, Mrs. David Meldrum and May Snow.

moisture grain and root crops are doing well and average yields are indicated. Semi-ripe tomatoes are being shipped and a good crop on reduced acreage is expected. Apples are in excellent condition and the crop is estimated to 10 p.e. above average. Estimated yields of other tree fruits are as follows:—Peaches 110 p.e., plums and prunes 100 p.e., apricots and pears 80 p.e. Pastureage is plentiful.

Bank of Montreal Crop Report

(Issued at Winnipeg, July 29)

GENERAL

Crops in the Prairie Provinces are approaching maturity under generally favorable conditions with more moisture required in southern and central areas where heat has been intensive. Damage from hail and pests has not been extensive and the outlook in general continues favorable. In Quebec, conditions continue very satisfactory with the exception of hay which is proving a light crop. In Ontario crops have made satisfactory progress and prospects are good except in eastern sections where rain is badly needed. In the Maritime Provinces recent rains have helped all growing crops and the general outlook continues promising. In British Columbia warmer weather has prevailed during the past week and crops are now developing rapidly but will be one or two weeks later than usual. Details follow:—

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

ALBERTA: Northeastern Area:—In general crops are a heavy stand, with moisture required in some areas. Coarse grains are heavy. South eastern Area: Crops are well advanced but slightly affected by heat and immediate rains are required. Cutting is expected to commence by mid August. Western Area: Wheat is better than last year and practically all headed. Coarse grains show a heavy growth. Sugar beets are making headway with no damage reported from weevorm.

SASKATCHEWAN: Northern Area:—Warmer weather during the past week has benefited heavy stands of grain, and wheat is practically all in head. Coarse grains promise good average yields. Generally speaking there is ample moisture. Southern Area: Crops have deteriorated during the past week in central and south central areas where intense heat and lack of rain have caused considerable damage and reduced prospective yields. Wheat cutting has commenced in the southeast, but will not be general for a fortnight.

MANITOBA: Wheat is all headed and filling well. Cutting has commenced in a few districts and will be general next week. There is sufficient moisture except in southwestern districts. A near normal wheat crop is indicated. Coarse grains are uneven especially in the southern area. Grasshoppers have caused considerable damage in the Red River Valley and some rust is reported.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Grains continue to progress favorably and average crops are anticipated. Oats are heading out well. Frequent showers in some districts have delayed harvesting of a hay crop which is generally light. Corn is backward and requires hot weather. Root crops are growing well. Apples are promising and small fruits are abundant. Pastureage is in good condition.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Fall wheat is above average, threshing 30 to 40 bushels per acre of good quality. Barley and rye are satisfactory. Oats are uneven, with an average crop indicated. Corn is backward but should be about average with favorable conditions. Roots promise an average crop. Small and tree fruits are good except apples which are 20 p.e. below normal. Tobacco has suffered from wilt and the crop is estimated at 80 p.e. of average. Frequent rains have maintained pastureage, except in eastern sections. Hay is a heavy crop but the quality is impaired. The second growth of alfalfa is heavy.

MARITIME PROVINCES

Haying has been retarded by recent rains. Potatoes and other root crops are progressing well. Apples are sizing rapidly and promise to be of excellent quality. Small fruits are plentiful. Pastureage is in good condition.

PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

A considerable portion of the hay crop, now practically all harvested, was damaged by rain. With ample

WHERE IS THE WAY?

This seems to be the question in the minds of men today. Nations, the world over, have assembled their most talented men to solve the present situation on existing, and so far very little, if any success, even of a mediocre nature has attended the deliberations of these many and varied parleys and conferences.

This year the United States will see an election, and according to observers there is less interest in this than in any other election ever held. There is in Ottawa at present in session, an Imperial Economic Conference where the leading men of the Great British Commonwealth are endeavoring to find ways and means to assist each other and lift the clouds of depression and gloom. In the first case we are told that citizens of the United States are fed up on election promises and that whichever party is elected can do but little to alter the present situation, and therefore they take their politics very coolly. In Canada, while we wish everyone else are hopeful of success attending the Conference, the feeling is noticeable that any immediate results are out of the question, and that any real and lasting benefits are problematical indeed.

In the midst of all this we are having labor demonstrations, clashes between the ex-service men and militia of the States, unemployed marches on the Capitol at Ottawa, rioting and bloodshed in Germany, banditry on every hand in China, and internal disturbances in every civilized nation in the world until there is no peace and tranquility to be found. It seems that man is powerless to cope with the situation and many of us are to be pitied and proud to put any faith in God, or to yield obedience if the way were pointed out to us.

America selfishness and individual greed seem to dominate the souls of all men everywhere, and the suffering sorrow and calamities of the masses knock at a bolted door in most cases. If all men are entitled to life liberty and the pursuit of happiness as some great statesman has put it, then there must be a world wide change of sentiment and a different outlook in life born, much can be accomplished toward the relief and adjustment of the present situation.

Preferential Tariff for Canadian Wheat Favored

James R. Murray, General Manager of The Alberta Pacific Grain Co., Ltd. has issued the following statement favoring preferential tariffs on wheat from the Dominions entering the Motherland:-

"It is ridiculous to suggest, as Press despatches from Ottawa during the past few days indicate, that the entire Grain Trade of Canada and grain growers of the West consider that a preferential tariff in favor of Canadian Wheat in the British Market would be of no advantage to Canada. Confidential briefs indicating such a view, may have been submitted to the Dominion Government by the authorized spokesmen of various bodies, but it is absurd to assume there is no contrary opinion among those they purport to represent. The official representations made by Grain Trade spokesmen are not the views of all grain dealers anymore than the Wheat Pools and Provincial Governments express the views of all farmers in the West.

"Almost everyone can agree that a quota system would be cumbersome and useless, but a preferential tariff is a different matter. Personally, I believe the free entry of Canadian wheat into the British market, by far the biggest wheat importing market in the world, with a duty against non-Imperial wheat, would be a distinct advantage in marketing our Canadian crop and over a period of years would assist in obtaining better prices for our Western grain growers. Considering the almost prohibitive tariffs against all wheat imports now in effect in all European countries, I believe there is much to be gained and nothing lost by such a preference.

"It seems to me unfortunate particularly at this time, when wheat growers in Western Canada need all the assistance and encouragement they can get that spokesmen, who at best supposedly represent less than half of the farmers in the West, should take the position that a preferential tariff in favor of our wheat in the British market is a matter of supreme indifference to them. What ever the views of our Western farmers may have been on this matter fifteen or twenty years ago, I do not believe they are today indifferent to the advantages that would accrue to them from such a preference. I believe that if the Dominion Government can, in exchange for tariff concessions on British manufactures entering Canada, secure a preferential tariff in favor of Canadian wheat entering the British market, they will accomplish something of great benefit to the whole of Canada and will earn the thanks of the majority of farmers and business men in Western Canada.

READY FOR SCHOOL

School days will soon be here again. When they come, every school child will be outfitted with books, pen and pencil. These things he needs so that he may be prepared to do his school work. Much more does he need to be provided with good health if he is to make a real success of his school days.

A surprisingly large number of apparently healthy children have certain physical defects which hinder their mental and physical development. The most common defects are those of the teeth, tonsils, adenoids, and eyes. Other fairly common defects are those of hearing and nutrition. It is obvious that the child who has one or more such defects cannot do as well in his school work as he would if he were free from these defects. A child who cannot hear or see properly, a child suffering from toothache or a child whose head is stuffed up with adenoids cannot be expected to be alert and give his full attention to his work.

Indeed, this was so obvious that some years ago there was organized, in many places, a system to provide for the examination of school children. One purpose of the examination is to discover the presence of defects and to advise parents to have the defects corrected given the necessary attention.

To the parent, this physical examination provides helpful information as to what their child needs to attain a good standard of health. The young or the child the easier it is to correct most defects. Even the more trivial defects should be corrected at once so that the child may get the most out of his time in school and so be better equipped for life.

It is unwise to wait until a child starts school to find out if he has any defects. Many parents secure the Advice of their family doctor during the pre-school years and so, when school time comes, their child is physically prepared.

In addition to being freed from physical defects the child should enter school armed with protection against smallpox and diphtheria. In some provinces the law requires vaccination against smallpox. Diphtheria each year takes away health and life itself from many children. This need not be the case, for we can prevent diphtheria by means of diphtheria immunization. Every baby, towards the end of his first year of life, should be immunized, and every child, as part of his preparation for school, should be protected against diphtheria.

Mystery cruises, so popular out of New York, Southampton and other great ports, were ushered in on the British Columbia coast with the sailing of the coastal liner Princess Patricia, of the Canadian Pacific coastal service, to an unknown destination under sealed orders, recently. Close to 200 passengers were attracted by the trip.

Juicy, red, succulent buffalo steaks grilled to a nicety, greeted the Australian and New Zealand delegates to the Ottawa Imperial Conference as they entered the dining car of their special train over the Canadian Pacific Railway out of Vancouver recently. The Auzzies were particularly impressed by this menu and pronounced it better than any beef they had ever eaten.

Governor Franklin Delano Roosevelt of New York, Democratic Nominee for the Presidency, has for years been one of New Brunswick's most distinguished non-resident visitors, members of his family annually spending several weeks at the Roosevelt summer home at Campobello, one of the Grand Manan Island Group in Passamaquoddy Bay. He first came there as a mere lad back in 1895.

Answering the call of Mt. Assiniboine, Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies, old and new members of the Trail Riders' Association, gathered at Banff July 24th with the objective of climbing the long ascent to the roof of the world and the Alpine country of the Great Divide in the vicinity of the Mountain. The ride required five days in all. Twenty American girls, summering at the Lake Windermere ranch, were among those taking part. (500)

CRATE FEEDING OF ROASTERS

In the fall of 1931 four lots of cockerels with eight in each lot were used at the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Sask. to compare the following mixtures and systems of fattening. (1) Equal parts of wheat, oats, barley, and potatoes; (2) Wheat alone; (3) Wheat, oats and barley in equal parts; (4) Same mixture as lot three. Lots 1, 2 and 3 were fed in standard fattening crates as specified in Pamphlet No. 125, New Series published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, but lot 4 was fed in a pen 8 by 14 feet in the same building, with light, temperature and ventilation the same. All grain was ground fine and moistened with buttermilk to the consistency of porridge, and no water was given. In lot 1, where potatoes were used, these were boiled and mixed with the meal.

The test continued for 20 days and the total gain per lot of eight birds were as follows: (1) Wheat, oats, barley, potatoes—13.3 pounds; (2) Wheat alone—12.3 pounds; (3) Wheat, oats, barley, (crates fed)—12.8 pounds; (4) Wheat, oats, barley, (pen fed)—13.1 pounds. The total cost of feed was 63, 53, 48 and 45 cents respectively. The pen fed lot made slightly greater gains than the crate fed lot getting the same feed. Potatoes did not increase the gains sufficiently to warrant their use, but increased the cost per pound gain. At the end of the period, four birds from each lot were carefully selected for dressing, leaving four of equal quality to be shipped alive. All were shipped to the same firm in Saskatoon and a grading statement was supplied. The grading did not indicate any important differences in finish of any lots but in comparison with birds from the range, a marked improvement in fish was easily noted. Although great care was taken in selecting the birds for killing, the dressed birds graded higher than those alive. In the dressed lots there was one graded 'A' from each lot, with no grade 'A' in the live lots. There was only one grade 'C' in all the dressed lots, but eleven in the live lots.
